

CONSTRUCTION CAREER PATHWAYS

New Pathways to Find the Workers You Need

If your construction company is currently looking to fill vacant entry-level positions, Construction Career Pathways may have the solution you need.

Created by BuildForce Canada, Construction Career Pathways connects companies seeking workers with individuals looking for work in the civil, residential, industrial, commercial, and institutional construction sectors.

Financial supports available

Funded by the Government of Canada, Construction Career Pathways offers an onboarding support incentive of up to $2,400 per employee who completes a 16-week work placement.

Just as importantly, Construction Career Pathways will help promote workforce diversification. Our program supports the placement of individuals from equity-deserving groups, including women, members of Black, Indigenous, and racialized communities, persons with disabilities, LGBTQ2+ community members, and newcomers to Canada.

Now accepting applications

Construction Career Pathways is currently accepting applications, with placements beginning as soon as spring 2023.
